A note from Ken Shetter

The work of One Safe Place has never been more vital. Communities across the United States are experiencing agonizing levels of gun violence and victims of domestic violence continue to face enhanced risk of escalated violence and lethality. Even as other aspects of life have begun to return to normal, the pandemic's effect on violence appears to persist. However, One Safe Place and its partner agencies are committed to a dogged pursuit of innovative, effective solutions.

This report reflects our best efforts to prevent crime and violence in our neighborhoods, homes and schools. In addition to statistics that convey One Safe Place's impact on our community, we have included quotes, and links to videos that tell the story of how the work of many individuals is adding up to a significant collective impact.

Finally, we are not standing still. We are seeking new solutions to our most complex issues. Specifically, we are focused on better addressing the challenges faced by children and youth who witness incidents of domestic violence, reducing gun violence and improving services for survivors of near-fatal strangulation.

Thank you for your support and partnership. Together we can make a difference for countless individuals and make this community safer, for all of us.

Theme for 2021: Imagine safety for all

Every human being has the right to be free from the fear of violence. Exposure to violence creates fear and makes a person feel unsafe. When people feel safe they are able to grow, learn, heal, and create brighter futures for themselves and those around them. Your artwork should focus on what a safe community looks like to you and how we can all create feelings of safety for ourselves and for those around us—in our homes, schools, and communities.

High School Winner:

"In my painting, I am holding my sister and the ribbon above us resembles our inner thoughts of feeling safe and loved."

Middle School Winner:

"This piece represents our world that we live in, we have all physically or mentally experienced the highs and the lows."
